Chad Tarver started his career in the construction industry very early while working at his family's lumber yard in Breckenridge, Texas throughout high school and college. In 2014, Chad began building residential homes as Hub City Custom Homes. In 2017, he joined 806 Land Group to begin developing residential subdivisions. Mattie Reagor studied architecture and interior design at Texas Tech University. She started her career in residential construction and design at a corporate architecture firm in Florida. In 2018, Mattie began residential and commercial projects in the West Texas area. She produces construction and design support documents for projects from start to finish. In 2020, Mattie joined Hub City Custom Homes as their in-house designer and architect.
